ABOUT BADGER CHALLENGE

Since its beginning in 2016 as The Ride—a community bike event created to raise funds and awareness for cancer research at UW–Madison and the Carbone Cancer Center—the Badger Challenge has grown into a powerful movement of hope and progress.

Over the past decade, it has evolved into a premier philanthropic series of events that power research at the Carbone Cancer Center, now encompassing the Badger Challenge Run/Walk/Ride, the elegant Badger Challenge Ball, and several golf outings—all united by one mission: to end cancer through research, innovation, and collaboration.

Together, participants, donors, and sponsors have raised more than $5 million, every dollar of which directly supports groundbreaking cancer research right here at UW–Madison. These funds drive discoveries that go far beyond Wisconsin, advancing treatments and improving lives around the world.

The Badger Challenge is more than an event—it's a community of fighters, survivors, and supporters determined to make a difference. Join us, and be part of the progress toward a world without cancer.
